

Consulting for Management Exempt Employees¹

State legislation permits consulting activities for UConn faculty provided these activities are carried out in accordance with the regulations set out in the legislation and University policies and procedures.

Management exempt employees with a faculty title² may consult provided all consulting activities are based on their academic expertise or prominence in the field. Management exempt employees must follow the online pre-approval process to gain permission to consult. In addition, if the proposed consulting activity will occur during the University's normal business hours, management exempt employees must use paid vacation days, personal days, or accrued holiday time.

² Vice Provosts, Associate or Assistant Vice Provosts, Deans, Associate or Assistant Deans, Directors (with a twelve-month appointment) are the most common titles for management exempt employees with a faculty title. Twelve-month management exempt employees without a faculty title are not permitted to consult under the Faculty Consulting policies and procedures.
